

Please do not overturn the "Do Not Call" ruling. Evenings at my house have become much quieter since the telemarketers have been restricted. I am bombarded with vendors requesting "a moment of my time" all day at work. It's a joy to be able to come home and not be bothered. I got my phone to keep in contact with my family and friends, not to listen to strangers try to sell me something I don't want. The vendors should use the US mail to sell their ware and leave the telephone for the important calls.
